MISSION CASA of Tarrant County and its court-appointed volunteers advocate for the best interest of abused and neglected children

VISION Provide a CASA volunteer to every child who needs one

VOLUNTEER INFORMATION BOOKLET

How It Starts

Child suffers abuse, neglect, or abandonment. DFPS is called. Abuse hotline: 1-800-252-5499

PHASE 01

Investigation

Local CPS investigates. Typically leads to one of three outcomes: abuse or neglect is ruled out due to lack of evidence; voluntary services are put into place; removal.

Removal

CPS explores placement options such as a relative or friend to prevent a removal or they submit a referral to Our Community Our Kids to identify a licensed foster home.

Advocate Assigned

CASA requests a judge approve the appointment of a CASA to the case. If approved, a CASA volunteer is matched to the case. Once assigned, the CASA begins their journey to advocate for the best interest of the child.

PHASE 04

Next Steps

Once placed, a case plan, family visitation, therapy, case management services and behavioral support all commence.

PHASE 05

Outcome

Reunification with parents or family
Adoption
Age Out (18+)

CASA OF TARRANT COUNTY

When home is no longer safe and a child must enter foster care, a judge may appoint a CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) volunteer to guide that child to a safe and permanent home as quickly as possible.

As a child moves through the maze of the legal system, the CASA volunteer is often the most consistent person in that child's life.

The cost of action is far more affordable than the cost of inaction. Children who do not find a permanent home by age 18 are at increased risk for ongoing social challenges:

50% are in jail by the age of 23

25% become homeless

CASAs prevent these outcomes by helping children find permanent homes and reducing time children spend in foster care. By reducing time spent in foster care, in 2023 CASA saved Tarrant County taxpayers

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is a "typical" volunteer advocate like?

Volunteer advocates come from all walks of life, representing a variety of ethnic, educational, and socioeconomic backgrounds. Approximately two-thirds of our volunteer advocates are employed full-time, some are college students, and some are retired. The one thing they have in common is the conviction that every child deserves a safe, loving, and permanent home.

What is the time commitment for being a volunteer advocate?

Each case is different. A CASA volunteer usually spends more time conducting research and interviews prior to the first court appearance. Once the initial investigation is complete, volunteers spend approximately 12-15 hours a month maintaining contacts and gathering information. The length of the case can vary, but typically the case will be between 12 to 18 months long.

Can I complete my volunteer requirements on my own schedule?

Yes! Volunteer requirements can be done on a flexible schedule. A lot of requirements entail phone calls, foster-home visits and meeting that can be scheduled according to your availability. Volunteers are required to visit the child(ren) face-to-face once per month.

What kind of support does a volunteer receive?

Volunteers have a Child Advocacy Specialist assigned to help them and work directly with them throughout their case.

HEAR FROM OUR DEDICATED VOLUNTEERS

CYNTHIA THOMPSON

CASA Volunteer

"The most rewarding part about being a CASA is meeting the child that I am working with and seeing how motivated the members of his family are to make the changes necessary. The child I am working with is very happy and energetic. He knows that he is surrounded by the people who love him and are working to keep him safe."

HEARD FLOORE

CASA Volunteer

"CASA is an organization devoted to helping children change their lives into more healthy, sustainable choices -- but there are not enough of us to reach most of these children. In the history of mankind on this earth, our individual life spans make up a brief moment or two at best but the effect of those lives can last much longer."

ANDRINI HENDARTON

CASA Volunteer

"I believe it is important for the children to know there are people on their side, whose primary concerns are to care about their well-being. There might have been changes in their lives, but a CASA volunteer is a constant presence they can depend on."
